Yesterday's news is dead
So let it lay.
Concern yourself then,
With news of today.
Yesterday's papers are sold.
They told their stories.
Today must they deal with
Other faded hopes or glories
Let not the news of yesterday
Concern your mind.
Today is the day to think about.
Yesterday is far behind.
Forget the past.
The present and the future hold
The hidden rainbow ends—
That pot of gold.

"I envy you."—"I envy him."
"I envy her."

How often we hear these remarks being made. The artisan envies the professional man; the musician envies the poet; the man on the Avenue envies the man in the small town, and the college boy envies the cowboy.

Why do we covet what someone else possesses? Why are we not satisfied to be what we are? Why do we eternally look off on the far away green pastures and with envious eyes wish we were over there?

The rose is not envious of the orchid; the buttercup is not forever wishing it was a daisy; the fir tree does not grieve its heart out because it is not an oak tree. Each one has its distinct place in the universe which is original and individualistic.

And so it is with us human beings. We are here for a specific purpose. No one else can do our work. We are all individual cogs in the Big Wheel of the Universe.

So just why can we not be content to go forth each day and perform our work; the particular niche which we have been ordained to fulfill? Why waste precious time in being envious of someone who—in all probability—has in turn looked at your "green pastures" with envious eyes, and wished that they occupied the place which you yourself hold.

Fortunate, indeed, is the man or woman who is content to be what they are. Who concentrate and centralize all their efforts to radiate an original personality. Who are forever seeking to rise to the supreme heights in their chosen field of endeavor.

I once heard a woman make the remark that she envied a certain woman her sweet disposition. Those who intimately knew the certain woman in question, were well aware that that sweet disposition was the result of many years of concentrated effort. And that the high commendations which that sweet disposition had attained were well earned.

Oh, to be like a violet, growing in the shady dell. Content to make a contribution to the universe; content to be what we are, content to exercise the God given intelligence which has been given to us in the most effective way for the betterment of humanity; content to occupy the place in the universe which has been allotted to us.

IONE GHIRARD LEADING IN FRONTIER QUEEN CONTEST FLAGS OF EVERY STATE WILL FLY JULY 22 - 23

WHO WILL BE THE QUEEN IS BIG QUESTION

Still Plenty of Time for Any Girl to Enter the Contest Prizes for the Winner

Who is going to be Queen of the Truckee Frontier Days and National Governors' Day?

Will it be Ione Ghirard, or will it be Ida Costa, or Vivian Riggs, or—just who?

As the paper goes to press the votes cast in the ballot box are as follows:

Ione Ghirard1900 votes
Ida Costa 570 votes
Vivian Riggs 0 votes

There is still plenty of time for any girl in the region to enter this contest, and win a prize.

To enter the contest is simple enough. All a girl has to do is to obtain a supply of votes which are to be sold for a penny a piece. The girl who gets the most votes will be made Queen of the Truckee Frontier Days and National Governors' Day.

Never—in the history of this generation—will we ever have forty governors as our distinguished guests, and never again, will the girls of this region have an opportunity to play a part in making history of this kind for all time.

In addition to the prizes to be won, the great honor of being made Queen of Truckee Frontier Days is—in itself—an honor that will be remembered forever.

Who will be the Queen?

It's the all important question everyone in town is interested in and waiting to hear the news.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS TURN COW BOYS

California Highway Patrol Officers are noted for their acumen and adaptability, but roping cattle and acting as cowboys has not heretofore been in the curriculum of that organization. However, last Sunday when a herd of over 600 head of cattle belonging to Joe Joergler, stampeded out on the Victory Highway between the Summit and Truckee, and went on a wild rampage, Traffic Officers Ernest Barrett, H. C. Cruse and J. A. Thielen—doing patrol duty on the highway—quickly grasped the situation, and entered the fray without any hesitation.

The traffic officers apparently know the cow language, as they soon had the cattle re-herded and on their way. The "boys" are going to have a difficult time from now on to convince the people of this region that they have not, at some time or other, had cowboy experience.

C. C. C. RECRUIT LANDS IN LOCAL JAIL ON FOURTH

Carl Brown, age 20, a member of the Trout Creek Camp of the Citizens Conservation Corps, was arrested on July 4th at the request of Captain Lockwood—commanding officer of the C. C. C. Camp, on a charge of petty larceny.

Constable William Bottcher took Brown into custody, and locked him up in the local jail.

Brown was tried before Judge Ocker Wednesday morning and was told to leave town.

Miss Josephine and Harold Pfandler, Miss Mabel Nichols and Miss Seneca of Sacramento were holiday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pfandler.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Cozzallo and family and Mrs. Whitley, formerly of Truckee, have taken the V. Cozzallo home for the summer.

FRANK C. MERRIAM
Lieutenant Governor

FRANK MERRIAM LOOKED UPON AS LIKELY CANDIDATE

For Months He Has Been Traveling From One End of State to the Other Speaking at Every Opportunity

Special to The Truckee Republican
SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—Perhaps his early newspaper experience taught him the man who gets in on the "ground floor" usually comes in ahead—but at all events Frank F. Merriam is letting no grass grow under the feet of his gubernatorial candidacy.

The republican lieutenant governor has not formally announced his candidacy for his party's nomination in August, 1934, but has made it quite clear that he is in the race. Merriam may set an all-time high for campaign speech making by the time August rolls around. For months, now, he has been traveling from one end of the state to the other speaking at every opportunity.

Of course, Merriam hasn't openly entered the campaign. That is, subjects of his many addresses do not bear a distinct political color. But that he is actually out on behalf of his own candidacy is admitted by his friends.

The job of lieutenant governor is an ideal one for a gubernatorial candidate. Ordinarily he has about three and one-half months' real work every two years. That's when he presides over the senate.

There is, of course, the chairman ship of the advisory pardon board. But that is merely a nominal task involving only the official's presence. The job pays $4,000 annually.

Thus Merriam, like ex-Governor C. C. Young, has ample time on his hands to campaign. Young was lieutenant governor during the Richardson administration. He, too, found the relatively light duties of his office afforded splendid opportunity for campaigning.

Merriam came to California in 1910 and engaged in newspaper work for 11 years on two Long Beach newspapers. He was an assemblyman for 10 years and speaker of the assembly four years. In 1928 he was elected to the state senate and two years later was elected lieutenant governor.

EXTRA TRAFFIC POLICE OVER FOURTH OF JULY

The California Highway Patrol had two extra traffic officers on duty in this region over the Fourth in addition to Officer Ernest Barrett. The extra officers were H. C. Cruse and J. A. Thielen, both of Sacramento.

With the three officers on duty, traffic along the Victory Highway was well protected.

Mr. and Mrs. George Andrus of San Francisco are visiting at the home of Mrs. MacDougal Smith.

BIG BANNER ATTRACTS PLENTY OF ATTENTION

The big thirty-foot banner strung across Main Street, announcing the TRUCKEE FRONTIER DAYS and NATIONAL GOVERNORS' DAY, July 22 and 23, is attracting no end of attention from passing motorists.

The sign painting was done by a Reno sign painter and is a splendid piece of work.

MILITARY ESCORT FOR BODY OF SOLDIER

An impressive military escort was tendered the body of John Mahoney, from the Ocker Funeral Home to the S. P. Railroad station last Thursday afternoon, where it was shipped for burial at Willows.

Thru the courtesy of Captain Lockwood, commander of the Citizens Conservation Corps encamped at Trout Creek, an army truck with guards and an escort of legionnaires of the Truckee Post American Legion, the body was moved to the station.

Mahoney was an ex-soldier, and his comrades thus paid him this military honor.

TRUCKEE HAS NEW RED AND WHITE STORE

Truckee has a brand new RED AND WHITE store, located in the building formerly occupied by the Rexall Drug Store.

The building has been all redecorated, and the red and white color arrangements presents a striking appearance.

Mr. Miller, who formerly conducted the Donner Market, has the meat department in this new Red and White Store, and W. K. Gast, of Minden, is in charge of the grocery department.

Readers are all urged to carefully read the special display advertisement in this issue, with a list of the many specials now on sale.

DONNER LAKE MAN CATCHES LARGE FISH

Trolling from an open boat, Gil Varney, now at Donner Lake, caught a fourteen pound Mackinaw trout the evening of the third of July in the Lake. The fish was brought to Truckee where it was displayed in the Truckee Sport Shop over the holiday.

Several fishermen, encouraged by Varney's catch, have been reported fishing in the near vicinity.

FOUR INJURED WHEN WOMAN DRIVER LOSES CONTROL OF AUTO

Four people, Mrs. Violet Hanson, Glen Hanson and Mrs. Helen Sarrazin and George Emery, all of Nevada, were injured when a car being driven by Mrs. Violet Hanson, bearing Nevada registration No. 3143 Nevada, leaped a 75 foot embankment near Floriston at 10:30 A. M. last Sunday.

According to the police, Mrs. Hanson lost control of the car on the Victory Highway near Floriston, and went over the steep bank, injuring all occupants of the car.

The injured were taken to the County Hospital at Reno, by one of the employees of the Fared Power House, close to the scene of the accident.

HOOVER AND WILBUR ARE LOCAL VISITORS

Former President Herbert Hoover and former Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, were local visitors in Truckee last Friday morning.

Hoover and Wilbur were on their way from Wilbur's summer home—"The Cedars" at Norden to Lake Pyramid, Nevada, to do some fishing.

The fishermen stopped at Post Office Square for a little while and chatted with one of the local townsmen regarding the Donner Party.

Slaughter Snakes

GOLDENDALE, Wash., July 6—(UP)—Four local truck gardeners in their annual spring foray against rattlesnakes, killed 60 snakes in a few hours in dens along the Columbia river near here recently.

The fastest elevators in the tallest buildings travel only 10 miles an hour.

Truckee will turn back the pages of history on July 23rd—Truckee Frontier Day and National Governors' Day—and once again the Pony Express will run; the old stage coach used in this town back in yesteryears, will again be pressed into service; Indians, cowboys, the old covered wagons and scouts will all again pass in review in the big Days of '49 parade.

Flags of every state in the Union have arrived in town, and will fly in the streets on July 23rd, as a fitting welcome to the Governors when they arrive.

Charles White, general chairman, Hugh McColl, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, Mrs. Guthridge, chairman of the Queen Committee and Mrs. W. F. Wilkie, director of the pageants, are all working at top speed to make this celebration the most interesting and thrilling in the history of the region.

Invitations have been forwarded to every editor in the region, and the citizens of their respective towns, at Loyalton, Downville, Susanville, Quincy, Biggs, Roseville, Auburn, Colfax, Grass Valley, Nevada City, Portola, and Lincoln, to attend the celebration.

Invitations have also been sent to the American Legion posts in all Northern California and Nevada towns to attend and bring their drum corps and bands.

Another meeting of all members of the various committees will be held on Friday evening in the Truckee Republican office at 8 o'clock and every member is urged to be present.

COMMUNITY PROGRAM

The Truckee Republican stands ready to extend every possible aid to the following progressive community program.

1. The establishment of a park alongside Southern Pacific Company's property on Main Street, with trees, shrubs, flower beds and a fountain.
2. Moving the Memorial at the State line to the new proposed park.
3. Building of a Community Building with suitable auditorium for public gatherings, and a gymnasium for the young people of the community.
4. The erection of suitable Welcome signs at the east and west entrance to Truckee.
5. Establishment of fish rearing ponds by the California Fish and Game Commission along the Truckee River.
6. Operation of water systems by the Truckee Public Utility District to enable cheaper rates.
7. Forming a new county consisting of the Eastern end of Placer and Nevada County, to be known as Tahoe County and with Truckee as the county seat.

Such a move is imperative for the development and expansion of the Truckee-Tahoe-Sierra Region.

DONNER MEMORIAL BUILDING

When Judge Raglan Tuttle and County Clerk R. N. McCormack made addresses in the Masonic Hall on June 23rd, both made the remark in the course of their talk that if Proposition No. 1 was approved by the voters of California, there was no reason why Truckee could not have a memorial building, where the community could gather and hold meetings and where a gymnasium could be built for the young people of the town. Proposition No. 1 on Taxation was approved, most heartily, by the voters on election day, June 27th, and so it would seem that Truckee's dream for a memorial building is to come true.

The Truckee Republican takes the liberty to make a suggestion. Why not buy the McGlashan home—located in one of our most sightly locations overlooking the mountains—and make it into a combined Donner Memorial and Community Building. There is ample land adjacent to build a gymnasium and the nation-wide reputation of Mr. McGlashan as an outstanding authority on the Donner Party history, should attract thousands of passing tourists and guests.

Too much emphasis cannot be given to Truckee's close identity to the Donner Party's tragic page of history. As a result, a Donner Memorial Building in Truckee is most in order as well as appropriate.

Let's have a Donner Memorial Building!

YOUNG FOLKS GET TOGETHER

Europeans have long done more leisurely traveling than Americans. They have enjoyed extended walking tours, river boating and bicycling for vacation trips. Now, many of these activities are urged upon young Americans as a better form of European travel than old-style touring. The scheme is similar to what some of us enjoy in the mountains of New Hampshire and Vermont.

A new travel column in "The Nation" tells of a system of "youth hostels" which has been developed throughout Europe by the people who "love trails and by-paths and the feel of ground under their feet." These are dormitory inns, providing simple, comfortable accommodations at amazingly low rates. Membership in the Youth Hostels Association of England costs 42 cents and gives the holder the privilege of staying at any of the hostels for 17 cents a night. Membership includes the free use of special maps for hikers and bicyclers and cheap railroad fares from cities to the point where the walking or other outdoor trip is to begin. Youth Hostels of different countries are affiliated so that membership in one assures privileges in others.

Americans making use of these facilities find they escape the beaten trail of the typical, rushed tourist and at the same time gain interesting association with groups of young Europeans.

Upon first consideration the chief beauty of the plan is that it offers inexpensive healthful vacation opportunities for any young people who can get across the ocean to participate. Longer study suggests that it is bound to have far-reaching social influences. Something of the sort will doubtless develop in America, too, and the international groups who share such vacations will at the same time share ideas and discussions of political, social and educational problems.

THE FIRST FARMERS

Man is supposed to have been first a solitary hunter, living in caves where the climate required it; then pastoral, following his wandering flocks; then agricultural, tilling the soil. This involved settling down.

It is a comparatively recent phase, but not so recent as archaeologists have supposed. Discoveries near Joppa seem to indicate that agriculture was flourishing in Palestine, 20,000 years ago. The original Philistines may have been the first farmers.

These extinct people are known as Natufians. They are described, from skeletal remains, as "long-headed and somewhat stopped." The description is convincing. Farmers have usually been like that.

They had wooden or bone sickles with sharp flints set in the cutting edge. That looks very primitive, until you remember that over a large part of the world farmers still cut their grain with sickles, and it is only a generation or two since American agriculture turned from the scythe to the mechanical mower and reaper. They had stone pestles to grind their grain. We are two or three centuries beyond that; but a couple of centuries are not much in 20,000 years.

We would like to ask those long-headed Natufians about their mortgages, taxes, marketing arrangements and banking problems.

CALIFORNIA STATE AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION
San Francisco, Calif.
June 28, 1933

Mr. Stanley Bavier,
Truckee, Calif.

Dear Mr. Bavier:

This is to acknowledge in a spirit of most sincere gratitude the friendly and effective assistance rendered by you to the California State Automobile Association in connection with the Craig road sign bill. Governor Rolph vetoed the measure on June 14, as you doubtless are aware. This acknowledgment of the part played by you in presenting the facts, as well as your personal views concerning the undesirability of the Craig bill, has been somewhat delayed by pressure of circumstances, but I can assure you it loses nothing in earnestness or sincerity by that delay.

While we are naturally gratified that the Craig bill has been vetoed, there is an even deeper satisfaction in knowing that the Association has in you a loyal friend and advocate. We know that such support as yours could not have been conscientiously expected had not the facts and justice of the situation been on our side. It will be our endeavor always to merit your faith in the integrity of this Association.

A copy of the Governor's veto message is enclosed, in the event it has not come to your attention. I know you will read it with interest.

Again thanking you most heartily for your assistance to the Association in this controversy, I remain,
Most cordially yours,
D. E. WATKINS

CLEM WHITAKER ADVERTISING
Sacramento, Calif.
June 29, 1933

Truckee Republican,
Truckee, California
The victory for Proposition Number 1 (The Riley-Stewart Tax Relief Plan) at Tuesday's special election was a splendid tribute to the influence of the California press and the vote appeal of newspaper advertising.

Both personally, and in behalf of the California Tax Relief Committee, I wish to assure you of my very sincere appreciation of the loyal and intelligent support given our proposal.

The results were especially gratifying to me inasmuch as the campaign was waged almost entirely through display advertising and publicity.

While our campaign fund was necessarily limited, 85 per cent of the money expended went into newspaper advertising. The second largest item in the budget was for radio, approximately 10 per cent. The outcome fully justified this allocation.

THE RECLAMATION OF THE WEEKLY PAPER

By M. J. MOORE

At twilight hour, I sit alone
And free from every toil and care
A whispered sigh, much like a groan
Was wafted on the air,
And by the rustling of the trees
Seemed carried by the evening breeze.

I looked, I gazed, what I could see
Was like a cloud by vapor white.
It fluttered round in front of me
I staggered with affright.
For lately I'd been notified
My Home-town Weekly Paper died.

Yes! I was brooding o'er my fate
Forebodings dark had filled my mind
The weekly issue, never late
Was filled with message kind,
But now, no more, for it was said,
The weekly paper was now dead.

And so, I saw the cloud once more
Come circling through the atmosphere
More plainly than I did before,
It brought those words of cheer.
The sickly paper did revive
We find it very much alive.

We think it signs were understood
That little cloud of vapor steam
Was just a message sent for good
And ended in a dream.
And we can recognize the fact
Our Home Town Paper has come back.

It's out for all that's good and clean
With sound advice and kindly word
And not the phantom of a dream.
There's nothing so absurd.
And we rejoice that we may tell
The paper is alive and well.

The True Seed of Honour

For who shall go about
To cozen fortune and be honourable

Without the stamp of merit? Let none presume

To wear an undeserved dignity.
O, that estates, degrees, and offices
Were not deriv'd corruptly, and that clear honour

Were purchas'd by the merit of the wearer!

How many then should cover that stand bare!

How many be commanded that command!

How much low peasantry would then be glean'd

From the true seed of honour
Pick'd from the chaff and ruin of the times

To be new-vernish'd!
—Shakespeare, "The Merchant of Venice."

WHAT SHAKESPEARE SAID

I am ashamed that women are so simple

To offer war where they should kneel for peace,

Or seek for rule, supremacy and sway,

When they are bound to serve, love and obey—The Taming of the Shrew, Act 5, Scene 2.

Explaining Stammering, and How to Cure This Speech Defect

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

IT IS bad enough to go limp—ing about on sore feet but to limp in one's speech is quite as distressing. It would be hard to estimate how much of the success of this world depends on the facility with which we are able to make our thoughts understandable in words. Then if our speech mechanism mutilates or in any way deforms the spoken word, its effect is depreciated beyond our calculation. There are more causes for stammering than we could enumerate here. The simplest is, of course, a sudden occurrence that undoes the nervous equilibrium and causes the sensory nerves for the moment to get tangled up.

DR. CHRISMAN

MUCH of the stammering we hear is due to a lack of coordination between the method of breathing and the way one uses the vocal chords. This is sometimes merely a momentary breathlessness or an unnatural huskiness of tone. There are voices we call "breathy," while others are nasal and others quite guttural. All these are affected by lack of breath control. Then there is actual impairment of the speech-making organs and constrictions which interfere with the rhythmic production of sound.

THE habit of stuttering is occasionally passed on from one generation to another and is then probably a physical defect. The trouble may follow a debilitating illness and is often found among undernourished children. It is most likely to afflict any one when the nervous system gets out from under control as in excitement or fright. These occasions only accentuate the habitual stammerer's affliction and distress. The trouble usually begins in childhood, at about four or five. There will be observed an inability to pronounce certain letters, usually the harsher ones. It is funny at first and no doubt we laugh at the child's effort to produce certain words under difficulty. We even have him say them over to hear how amusing his enunciation is. We do not always discover our mistake until considerable mischief is done.

Speech is very simply just the muscular control of the stream of air which passes from the larynx through the mouth in the process of breathing. This control is operated first by the vocal cords in the voice box or upper throat. The sounds are modulated further by the tongue, the cheeks, the soft palate, and the lips. There are so many nervous and muscular actions involved that the marvel is that we are ever able to emit a pleasing voice in speech. We want ease and smoothness, reasonable speed and tone control. All of these things require education in using an exquisite set of machinery and much pains to keep it in order.

State Department Of Public Health Investigates Wine

Special to The Truckee Republican
SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—California must have pure wines or the state department of public health will know the reason why.

Liberalization of prohibition laws has resulted in a number of new problems for the department, according to a report submitted to Governor Rolph, and required the inauguration of a thorough investigation into the marketing of beverages recently made legal.

The investigation was made necessary, the report said, particularly because of the asserted mislabeling of wines.

"In some cases," Dr. Giles S. Porter, director of public health, said "the wines are diluted and adulterated with other materials, which fact is not stated on the labels."

"It was found that one concern is preserving its wine product with benzoate of soda, coloring it with a coal tar dye and adding to the wine, tartaric acid, tannic acids, one-third grape juice and one-third water. Four hundred cases of this product were segregated for quarantine."

The reference, of course, was made to 3.2 wine.

Liberalization of prohibition laws added other complications to the department's tasks, the report revealed.

Because of the return of legal beer, it was pointed out, there is considerable activity in the digging of clams.

"These shellfish are now advertised in many lunch places where beer is featured. This requires closer supervision over the digging of clams in order to make certain that no clams from quarantined areas reach the market," the report explained.

As a result of more strict supervision, the department of public health anticipates that residents of California will know what they are getting when they order "wine" or "clams and beer."

A WOMAN CAN LEARN SECRET OF LOVELINESS, CHARM, BEAUTY

By JACQUELINE HUNT

MANY women are born with that mysterious thing known as charm (or poise or wisdom), but not all of them know how to make the most of it. If you are born with it, perhaps you only need to have someone tell you how to use it, if you are not, then drop everything you are doing and learn it. Learn to look for the brighter, finer things.

MISS HUNT

So many of you go along thinking that beauty is not for you—that it is only a mythical pot of gold at the end of the rainbow—and then one day a miracle takes place. You realize that you might have been beautiful all the time if you had only known how and believed in something. And you can be lovelier now—even though you are no longer young.

Great medical men have discovered that glands have a lot to do with your growing old and that if you can keep these glands young and bouncing with life you can stay young a long time. You can do much to keep these glands healthy by taking care of your general health. Relax even though you are a busy person, drink a lot of water, learn to be calm and you will give your glands a chance to take care of themselves and of you.

When you have learned to control your health and nerves, turn to cosmetics. Select them for their gentle effectiveness. Skin is young when it is soft and moist; it is old when it is stiff and harsh. Use cleansing creams that turn to liquid almost as soon as they touch your skin and use a bland soap and water. And rinse and rinse, first with warm water and then let the water run colder and colder until it is icy. Do the same thing in the morning, first rinse your skin with tepid water then gradually lower the temperature. Violent measures are bad for skins that are no longer youthful and adjustable and glowing. After cleansing use a gentle tonic or neutralizer that will stimulate your skin slightly and make sure that all cream and dirt are gone. You will need a nourishing cream, too, to keep your skin fresh and soft. There are many creams that are easy to use and delightfully efficient. When you find the one that is best for you stick to it.

There are other little touches that help you find beauty. Search for them. Try letting your little dab of cheek rouge soften before you blend it into your skin and you will have a natural looking cheek coloring. Dip your wash cloth into cold, cold, water and smooth it over your flabby neck or double chin to improve the appearance. And if you use nail polish be sure that its color harmonizes softly with your costumes. Care for your health so unceasingly that your skin is clear and luminous — you can, you know.

TRAFFIC SQUADS TO WAR ON CARS WITH ILLEGAL HEADLIGHTS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—A new "war" has been declared on automobiles operating with illegal headlights.

A series of "surprise" raids will be conducted throughout the state by members of the California highway patrol. All county squads are to take part in the raids.

Citations ordering offenders to appear in court in addition to requiring the adjustment of lights will be issued, it was announced.

HIKES ALL NIGHT TO SERVE ON JURY

GOLD BEACH, Ore., July 6—(UP)—When summoned for jury duty William Lane, living in the upper river country, hiked over mountain trails all night. He finally arrived the next morning half an hour late. Another member of the venire walked 10 miles to a highway and hitch-hiked the rest of the way to court. A third member arose before daybreak, milked a herd of cows, then drove 5 miles to the courthouse.

ORLAND CLUB HONORS CHIEF OF '46 REVOLT

ORLAND, Cal., July 6—(UP)—From an unmarked grave in a Glenn county grain field, the body of William B. Ide, president of the "Republic of California" in 1846, soon will be removed to an historic shrine to be established here.

Ide died in 1851 from smallpox and was buried in a graveyard near Monroeville. The town has since vanished and the cemetery occupies a small plot in a large grain field.

Engaged in ranching before and during the gold rush days, Ide's colorful career was linked closely with development of northern California. At the end of the Bear Flag Revolt, in which he was a leader and served 23 days as president of the Bear Republic, Ide returned to farming and at one time was said to have owned 45,000 acres of land.

In addition, he devoted considerable time to the political life of the county, serving as judge, clerk, sheriff, assessor, treasurer, recorder, surveyor and district attorney—and at one time occupied all these positions simultaneously.

A story related of his official life was to the effect that during the trial of a horse thief he acted not only as arresting officer and judge but also as prosecutor and defense attorney as well. His plea for mercy for the accused man, in his capacity of defense counsel, however, failed to impress the jury and the prisoner was found guilty and sentenced to hang.

Removal of Ide's remains here is being sponsored by the Orland Boosters Club. They plan to erect a monument of native stone over the grave and set up a bronze tablet detailing his career.

Rocks Lead To Suit

HELENA, Mont., July 6—(UP)—A rock on the right of way of the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific Railway led to a $20,000 damage suit. Oliver Faribault, a switchman, filed suit for that amount against the company, charging he had stumbled over the rock as he stepped from a train and suffered permanent injuries.

Boy Gets Medal

Karl Maier, 14-year-old Junior High School boy of San Francisco, Cal., who recently received a medal from the American Legion as a testimonial to his "service, courage, leadership, scholarship and honor." Karl, who was born in Germany and brought to the United States by his father when he was a baby, is now an orphan, and is cared for by an uncle who served in the German army.

NORDEN NEWS

By C. W. KRAMER
(Too Late for Last Week)

A severe blow was felt by every man under the supervision of Bridge and Building Foreman John Henry Mahnkey, who on Monday afternoon fell from the roof of the snowsheds in the vicinity of Norden and was instantly killed. Mr. Mahnkey was regarded as being the most efficient and capable foreman in the construction of snowsheds that the Southern Pacific Company has ever had on the "Hill." He had only recently started to take down these snowsheds in preparation to rebuilding new sheds to withstand the severe snows of the winters to come and it was in line of duty that this mishap befell him. No one could account as to why or how he could have fallen from the snowsheds as he was regarded as being the best authority in accident prevention and always employed safe practices in the pursuance of his duties and snowshed construction. During his twenty years as B&B Foreman, which has been spent on the "Hill," he built many a monument by which his memory will long be carried into the pages of time and by his deeds all will remember him. He was affectionately known as "Helenie" among his friends of whom he had many and foes none and his smile will be sorely missed from the pathway of life of which many of us relied upon. His gang of twenty-four men feel his loss severely as he had always been more of a brother to them than a presiding officer and to one whom one could go for needed advice and counsel, which was of the highest character and to him the great Almighty will justly reward him for his services here on earth below to which he is justly entitled.

His entire force of partners who labored side by side with him these past years will bear him to his last resting place in a most fitting and proper manner as his remains are expected to be taken from Truckee Thursday on the afternoon train and taken to Willows where the funeral will be held on Friday. A steady stream of friends have passed his bier during the time he has been held in Truckee at the Ocker Mortuary Parlors.

Many brothers and sisters remain to mourn his passing and many will be no hand for the funeral at Willows.

Those surviving are W. O. Mahnkey of Eureka, California, Mrs. Cecilia Swarts of Redding, California, Mrs. J. S. Wheeler of Dunsmuir, California, Mrs. Roy House of Medford, Oregon, George Mahnkey of Tacoma, Washington, Andrew Mahnkey of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, C. P. Mahnkey of Oasis, Missouri.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends for their sincere sympathy, kindness and cooperation shown us in our recent sadness over the loss of our brother John Henry Mahnkey and for the beautiful floral offerings. We especially want to thank the employees of B&B 103 for their many kind acts of sympathy.

Signed

Lionel Snelling who was confined to the Southern Pacific General Hospital at San Francisco and to his home convalescing for the past six weeks has returned to his place of vocational endeavor and reports that he is in fine physical condition and ready for the task before him. Lineman Garrison of San Francisco, who relieved Snelling, has been assigned to Folsom to do relief work.

J. C. Lyon, postmaster and proprietor of Norden Grocery, returned this week after being confined to a Sacramento hospital for a couple of weeks for a blood infection suffered while on a state job at Napa.

Ernest Van Der Volgen of Norden Grocery and Albert Proteau, the efficient engine watchman of Norden Fire Train proved capable guides last week when Miss Margaret Vanderford and Miss Alice Emery, both of Sacramento, who are vacationing at Norden, were in that party that scaled the precipitous sides of Castle Peak, which has an altitude near 9,500 feet, the trip was thoroughly enjoyed by the young women, but from the appearance of the young men it would appear that the young women withstood the trip the better as the Norden Grocery's sock or amica was called into play on the young men's return. The reason still remains a mystery.

C. E. Smith of Sacramento is now engineer of the Norden Fire Train relieving engineer Danforth who returned to his home terminal in Roseville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Snyder, accompanied by their son, Wesley, returned to Norden last Saturday after motoring to Klamath Falls and other principal cities in Oregon. They were gone for five weeks.

Louie Hong, who has been on an indefinite leave from B&B 106, has returned to Norden while Fong Woc who was doing relief duty returned to Sacramento.

A very fine motoring trip was enjoyed last week by C. W. Kramer and family when they were invited by Andrew Pfeiffer of Norden to take an extended trip as his guest.

Louis Featsent and Joseph Casari of B&B 108 had just cause last week to become jubilant over the fact that they landed an eight pound and a five pound Mackinaw trout. John Thonburn came in for honors from Norden's nearby lakes, while as having landed a six pound catch of four fish of the eastern brook variety.

Mrs. Emma Hackley, mother of Halford Hackley, Norden's efficient signal repairman, is making an indefinite stay with relatives and friends at Alameda and Berkeley.

Mrs. Ethel Threlkel, Norden's lone school teacher of the summer school, was called to the bedside of her mother who resides in Clairborne, Colorado this week, when she received word of her mother's serious illness. She departed on the first train. Until her return the school is without an instructor, consequently the pupils are having a relief from studies.

Mrs. Frank Rector played hostess to several women passengers this week when they motored to the shores of Lake Tahoe for a days outing. She had as her house guest her sister Mrs. Louise Slevens of San Francisco. Others who made up the party included Mrs. Alice Sellie and Miss Beatrice Flickinger, both of Norden. A tempting lunch was served on the sand while several members enjoyed themselves by donning bathing suits, while little Ruth Rector about walked away with the show.

The home of Charles Vanderford on Highway Court was the scene of much activity this week when his daughter Margaret called in several members of Norden's young set for bridge and whist, after which a taffy pull was indulged in.

Mr. and Mrs. Libby of Norden have endeavored to land some of the prize trout that are known to occupy the many lakes and nearby streams, but their trips have not been successful.

Mr. Frank M. Lathrop of Ogden Utah, arrived last week to resume his duties in B&B 108 during relief from school activities for the summer. Frank is studying to follow in his father's footsteps as that of being a civil engineer and is studying for that end. His father, Mr. Harry Lathrop, will be remembered by all the old timers who was on the Sacramento Division about fifteen years ago. Local bean brummels keep an eye on Frank.

A most recent arrival to resume activities in snowshed construction at Norden proved to be none other than Ernie Brandt, who with his wife operate the Donner Monument Museum and restaurant.

Joseph Northey and Noble Robinson of B&B 108 motored to their respective homes in Roseville over Sunday.

William Lee and George Eberhardt of the Sacramento Shops and Joe "Heavy" Howe of the Water Service Department of Sacramento have been in Norden for the past ten days making improvements at the Oil Plant which is under the able supervision of Albert Armbruster.

Mrs. James T. Fullbright and three children, family of James Fullbright, the night guardian of the rails of Norden, are spending a few days in Auburn.

Lawrence and Ralph Bertolozzi and John Benedetti of Sacramento were recent visitors at the home of Abromo Bertolozzi on Railroad Ave.

Mrs. Reginald Howe and son Robert have been the house guests of the Wm. Seitz home on Van Norden Way, having come up from Sacramento to spend the holidays.

Mrs. Art Wartell with several friends endeavored to proceed to Norden one evening this week on business and owing to the intricate trackage system installed in the past few years about Norden they became confused while en route to their home at Tunnel Six and proceeded over the eastward track finally winding up at Tunnel Forty One which necessitated walking several miles before reaching their objective.

Mike Fisher of Roseville is relieving Watchman Al Proteau of the Norden Fire Train.

Noble Robinson and Joseph Northey motored to their respective homes at Roseville.

Wayne Libbee of Norden has just cause for the disappearance of the buttons from his vest when he recently returned from a motor trip spent at Susanville and as far north as Medford, Oregon. During the tour he made the acquaintance of his niece, a few days old, at Susanville being the first to call him Uncle or as he puts it, when it can speak the first in his family and he has already placed an order for a new hat.

Thomas E. Honey Eversult returned to Norden unexpectedly one day this week accompanied by his finance Miss Eva O'Connell of Sacramento in search of a prospective location in which to erect a future home of which it has been authoritatively learned such a location was finally decided upon, but this will be one event that evidently slipped by the month of June.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Libby of Norden motored to Willows this week to attend the rites of the late John H. Mahnkey who was accidentally killed last week.

CALIFORNIA IS PROMISED FINE TOMATO CROPS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—California should have an excellent crop of summer tomatoes according to a forecast of the federal-state crop reporting service.

Plantings this year amount to 2,400 acres as compared to a harvest of 2,600 acres in 1932 and 1,600 acres in 1931, the report said.

"Merced reports indicate the crop is in fine condition and Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties have acreages that are coming along nicely," the report said. Both seed beds and plants for late tomatoes are reported to be "making excellent growth."

SHOCK CAUSES PINK ELEPHANTS, MISSED PUTTS TO GOLFERS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—Local golfers insist there ought to be a law against Mother Earth doing a shimmy while the game is in progress.

When a recent earthquake shock caused the landscape in this vicinity to tremble momentarily, at least three golfers emphatically blamed the tremor for missed putts. One player went so far as to declare the fates were against him, tore up his card, and refused to continue the game.

The effect in the locker room was even more serious. One of the "tea drinkers" swore he saw a light bulb swaying, with the result that his liquid refreshments were confiscated.

Tahoe and vicinity has never enjoyed a more beautiful (or prosperous) Fourth. The holiday itself was perfect, with sunny skies and a gentle breeze, the night heavenly with a yellow moon shining out over the lake. Traffic was the heaviest ever remembered over the holidays with cars pouring into the region from many far states, a steady stream continuing day and night from Friday till Tuesday, yet very few accidents were reported. Resorts and hotels and campgrounds were crowded to capacity with many turning motorists away literally by the hundreds. The lake itself seemed to coax out motor boats, fishing parties and swimmers. The beautiful green of the Tavern golf course is dotted constantly now, early and late with young and old in gay summer togs, coaxing and chasing the elusive white pellet over hill and dale. Huge bombs, whose reverberations fairly penetrated the topmost crevices of the distant mountains echoing back again, pin wheels and roman candles, and sky rockets whose beautiful colors burst out over the lake and chased their own gaudy reflections back into oblivion. The dance halls and resorts teemed with throngs of merry makers and the beaches were dotted with bathers. Surely there can be no complaint

GLEN ALPINE NEWS

Glorious spring has come to Glen Alpine of Lake Tahoe. While this resort is beginning its fifty-fourth season, the surrounding high Sierras are freshening with all the lively colors of waterfalls and flowers, of growing grass and shrub and tree.

Once again the streams are pouring through Modjeska Falls, Susie Falls, Glen Alpine Falls and many others with the roar of freed waters and the flash of gleaming spray. The numerous water courses are hurrying the melted snow thru the age-old mountains.

The meadows are beginning their season's panoramic display of the hundreds of hues and designs that only mountain flowers may offer. Of the more than two hundred varieties which have been catalogued in the Glen Alpine country, some of the distinctive ones now blooming include Indian paintbrush, columbine, yellow daisies, violet and lupins.

There is still much snow on all of Glen Alpine's surrounding slopes. The grandeur of Desolation Valley is heightened by its present mantle of white.

Fishermen are securing generous catches of trout in the Glen Alpine Lakes. Among the many in the region, some that are especially pleasing to anglers at present with locheven, Eastern Brook and rainbow are Grass Lake, Susie Lake, Hult Moon Lake and Lost Lake.

The exhilarating air up among the towering, rugged and colorful mountains about Glen Alpine contributes to the enjoyment of its guests. John Muir was there inspired to write "The Glen Alpine resort seems to me one of the most delightful in all the famous Tahoe region. From no other valley, so far as I know, may excursions be made in a single day to so many peaks, wild gar gardens, glacier lakes, Alpine groves cascades, etc."

WOMAN SEEKS TO EXCHANGE STOLEN SHOES

ROSEVILLE, Cal., July 6—(UP)—Fair exchange may not be robbery—but it might prove to be shoplifting.

E. O. Hutton, proprietor of a local shoe store, found one pair missing when he checked up his stock. He was positive the shoes hadn't been sold.

Sometime later, Mrs. Josefa Mendez, Mexican, appeared at the store and wished to exchange the missing shoes for another pair of the correct size. She was given a 90-day suspended sentence by Police Judge Don L. Bass.

Crops Menaced

HAVRE, Mont., July 6—(UP)—A grasshopper invasion threatens the wheat farms of Hill county. Hundreds of pounds of poison bran have been disturbed in infested areas, and authorities are hopeful of halting a disastrous foray by the insects on young crops.

VACATIONS and HEALTH

By Dr. ERNEST H. LINES
Eminent Authority and Chief Medical Director
New York Life Insurance Company

CHILDREN IN SUMMER MONTHS

FOR children, the summer months are playtime. Free from the tasks of the schoolroom, they look forward eagerly to the games and pleasures of the vacation period. But intelligent and careful planning for the holidays is as essential for children as for adults. Since the routine of school health educators is suspended, full responsibility for health falls on the shoulders of parents.

The vacation period of the average city child is usually spent with adult relatives at summer resorts, at organized camps, or in the year-round city environment. It is the unfortunate children who spend the last type of vacation who require the closest supervision.

They should be particularly warned against over-exertion and heat prostration, against eating foods handled by street vendors, and against the dangers of accident from automobiles. The most tragic aspect of the child's vacation period is the increased number of avoidable accidents to children due to the failure of parents and children to carry on the safety campaign waged throughout the school year.

Although swimming is excellent exercise for children, particularly since it teaches them how to take care of themselves in the water, care should be taken to avoid the pollution of "the old swimming hole." Children who go to summer camps should be examined in advance by the family physician and a record should be sent to the camp authorities so they may regulate the child's activities in accordance with his physical condition.

Explosions

Many accidents to children occur from the explosion of dynamite caps left lying around vacant houses, summer cottages and other places where children may pick them up. The Institute of Makers of Explosives reports that 500 children are killed or injured annually from playing with blasting caps. Most of these accidents occur during the summer months.

A still greater number of children are maimed by the explosion of firecrackers. Look-jaw and burns are a serious danger. Don't let the Fourth of July be a reminder that your child has lost his life, or an eye, or some fingers from a firecracker explosion.

In short, plan the child's vacation so that it combines the greatest freedom from the nervous tension of the formal classroom with the highest regard for the rules of healthful living and the greatest care to avoid accidents. Continue the child's regular rest period. If possible, bring the child close to the lessons of the great outdoors. See to it that, with an abundance of sunlight, air, rest and directed recreation, the little citizen goes back to school with a sound mind and a sound body.

This is the second of a series of 12 articles on Vacations and Health. The third, on Camp Life, will answer the questions: 1. What first aid should be administered for snake bites? 2. How should a camp site be selected? 3. How should firearms be carried?

Nevada County To Share In Federal Public Works Deal

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Special to The Truckee Republican

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—A tremendous federal public works melon of approximately $100,000,000 will be sliced into many parts in California, and Nevada county will get its share if proposed county and municipal projects within its border meet exacting federal requirements.

This $100,000,000 is California's share of the $2,000,000,000 to be distributed throughout the nation for public works in accordance with President Roosevelt's National Industrial Recovery Act.

California's federal administrator appointed by Governor Rolph, will administer and disburse the funds. He will, of course, act under governmental directions.

Assisting the administrator—if the governor's suggested program goes through—will be a large advisory council. On this council will be representation from every political subdivision in the state; also civic and private agencies.

Purpose of the council will be to cull out the projects which fail to meet specifications and submit the remainder to the federal administrator. Already city-county projects totaling approximately $437,000,000 have been advanced. Thus the governor observed, the need of some advisory sifting and culling agency is immediately apparent.

Thirty per cent of the cost of each project would be borne by the federal government. The remaining 70 per cent would be financed by federal loans to cities or counties on liberal terms.

Each project submitted by a county or city must run the gauntlet of the following questions: Is the project needed; how many men will it put to work; how soon will work start; for what period will it continue; can the unit of government afford its portion of the cost; status of plans and specifications; progress made in regard to acquisition of site or property rights of way; percentage of cost that will go to salaries and wages, and to materials.

"Unquestionably," Governor Rolph said, "Projects will be favored which tend to create immediate employment and increase the purchasing power of the people."

OFFICIALS DISCOVER EASTERN CAR RACKET

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—A new kind of "racket" has been discovered by officials of the state department of motor vehicles and the division of labor statistics.

$55,794 Expended By Nevada Co. for Charity Last Year

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Special to The Truckee Republican

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—Counties and the state are today faced with a grave and compelling problem. The depression has markedly increased the number of persons depending on charity for existence. It has likewise swelled the enrollment in various correctional institutions.

Concurrently with this increase reports indicated, there has been a decided decrease in available funds for the care and maintenance of such unfortunates.

Nevada county expended $53,794.97 last year on charities and corrections. Need for such expenditures it was reported, has increased throughout the state this year; but the demand cannot and will not be met because of depleted revenue.

Mrs. Rheba Crawford Spivale, director of the department of social welfare, sympathizes with counties' charity problems because she has a big one of her own. The social welfare department budget was cut from $352,000—the governor's recommendation—to $144,000.

"Number of needy aged, blind and children dependent upon state funds continues to increase," Mrs. Spivale said. "On May 31, 1933, Calif.

onia had 31,026 persons receiving state aid, an increase of 278 cases during May.

"The problem of administration of the state's established and humanitarian aid programs becomes more difficult because of the staff reduction made necessary by the new budget.

"Nevertheless, applications continue to come to the department—each application requiring individual attention and investigation. Each case represents a human problem and each case varies as human beings vary, so that individual attention must be given to each one.

A strong drive will be made on the legislature at its July session to raise more money for the department. Mrs. Spivale—heartily disliked by a number of legislative leaders—has even offered the incentive of her resignation if the lawmakers will give to the department the funds she feels are necessary. Even Rolland Vandegrift, finance director, another enemy of the evangelistic director, is ready to go to the bat for her in the quest for additional funds.

The fight for additional social welfare department funds involving, as it does, interesting and conflicting personalities, promises to be one of the issues of the July session of the legislature.

Dr. Siegfried Turkel of the Vienna police claims he can not only invariably detect a raised check, but can tell how long ago the change was made.

Butane gas, long considered an unimportant by-product of the petroleum industry, has been found to be one of the most efficient fuels ever tried in locomotives.

"Sacramento" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, July 9, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The other Church, 9, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (I Cor. 10:16). Other Bible citations will include: "Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us: Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (I Cor. 5: 7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If we feel the aspiration, humility, gratitude, and love which our words express,—this God accepts; and it is wise not to try to deceive ourselves or others, for 'there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed.'" SACRAMENTO POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS SUB - MACHINE GUNS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—Modern criminals are to receive modern treatment at the hands of the Sacramento police department.

Following a conference between City Manager James Dean and Police Chief William Hallanan an order was placed for Thompson sub-machine guns capable of firing 500 shots per minute each. Tear gas guns which discharge good-sized bombs at a distance of more than 300 feet also were ordered.

The chief explained, in making the requisition, that he wanted his men to be at least on even terms when they meet in combat with the criminal element.

Live Hog Theft Is Grand Larceny Charge

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—It's far worse to steal a live hog than a dead one, according to the district court of appeals.

That was the gist of a decision handed down recently upholding a Napa county court conviction of Manual and Arthur Ojeda on the charge of stealing a hog. The brothers were accused of purloining a live porker and killing it.

Had the brothers taken a dead hog, the penalty imposed would have been for a minor crime, said the court. But to steal a live animal—that was grand theft.

herbs, although botanically speaking they are not related. The thing that they have in common is that they all contribute leaves, stems, roots or seeds that can be used for seasonings and flavorings. Some of them will grow plentifully and attractively in flower pots, while others like tarragon, chives, sage and dill grow best out of doors in a corner of a flower bed or in the vegetable garden.

Poultry Seasonings
Thyme and sage and savory are used mostly in stuffings for poultry or rolled roasts, in sauces and just now in many of the fancy cheeses. Chives give a delicate, onion-like flavor to sauces, salads and to omelets. Mint is used for many purposes besides garnishing the rim of ice tea glasses or flavoring chilly drinks. It can be used in stuffings, in sauces, jellies, fruit cups, and many like it finely chopped and sprinkled on glazed peas or carrots. Sesame and caraway seeds are used in cookies, and poppy seeds for rolls. Rose geranium leaves laid in the bottom of your cake pan or placed on top of your setting jelly before you cover it will contribute their subtle flavor and fragrance to the food.

Chill Peppers
Commonplace dishes are given new zest if seasoned with herbs—and by the way, I forgot to mention chill peppers among the "herbs." You will find them a great help in preparing meats, beans, sauces and in cooking greens. The amount of the herb used depends on individual taste. Omelets, fish, rice, eggs prepared in other ways, soups, stews and meat balls are also made more interesting with the proper use of these seasoning herbs.

EMPLOYEES IN STATE DEPARTMENTS TO BE LAID OFF IN JULY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 6—(UP)—Drastically reduced budgets affecting every state department will require the layoff July 1 of between 1,500 and 2,000 state employees, according to Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance.

These layoffs, it was pointed out, are in addition to those which may be necessary if the legislature sustains the governor's veto of the salary reduction bill and refuses to appropriate the necessary $5,000,000.

The layoffs by departments include: architecture and highway engineers, 160; water resources, 60; natural resources, 20; agriculture,

MENJOU RETURNS TO WARTIME HOME IN PICTURE ROLE

Adolph Menjou returns to the scene of his wartime experiences in "A Farewell to Arms," a Frank Borzage production, screen adaptation of the novel by Ernest Hemingway, currently on display at the Donner Theatre next Sunday night with Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper in starring roles.

Menjou, cast as the Italian army surgeon, "war-brother" of the young American hero of the story, was actually a captain in charge of a unit of the American ambulance corps in Italy during the World War.

He was stationed in the Tyrolean Alps, locale of much of the action of "A Farewell to Arms."

He also did medical service in the American hospital in which the majority of the romantic action of "A Farewell to Arms" was set. Cooper plays the role of the American officer, with Miss Hayes as the English nurse with whom he falls in love.

She had chased away the mother pheasant and laid 13 of her own eggs beside the six pheasant eggs and was hatching them all.

RESEDA, Cal., July 6—(UP)—The San Fernando sugar beet crop will total about 20,000 tons of beets, according to surveys. The acreage is somewhat smaller than anticipated.
